Memory Work Helps

SOME MORE HELPS / IDEA'RS

- Use music to help. Do you find it much easier to remember lyrics than spoken words? Try setting the Bible verse to a simple tune (perhaps repurposing a song you already know well) that you can sing to yourself. (If this sounds like a strange suggestion, consider that many famous hymns and worship songs use Bible verses as their lyrics, and were written specifically as aids for Bible verse memorization.)
- Put it everywhere! Write your memory verse out on multiple index cards or sticky notes and putting them all over the place, so that you'll see the verse many times throughout your day. Tape the verse to your bathroom mirror or computer monitor. Tuck it into your purse, lunch, school textbook, pockets... anywhere you'll see it. Make the verse your computer desktop background or write it out on a piece of paper, put the paper in a Ziploc bag and hang it in the shower!

What creative approach might work for you and your schedule?

Monthly Game

Visualize it!

Create a slide presentations for your memory work. Use large block letters on a plain background and then include a picture to help visual learners connect an image to the memory work. This visual hook will help them to recall what the memory work is about.

Or, take your memory work and create a series of drawings to represent the words we were trying to remember. Create the drawings on the whiteboard or on paper line by line. After each line return to the start of the verse and repeat the verse again and again using the pictures as cues.
